On Call International to Serve as Emergency Call Center for Fraser Yachts

SALEM, N.H. – May 1, 2008 – Medical and travel assistance company, On Call International, today announced its partnership with leading yacht service provider, Fraser Yachts, to serve as the emergency response call center for the Fort Lauderdale-based company's worldwide employees and managed yachts.

Equipped with physicians, on-demand 24/7/365, On Call will facilitate any urgent situation that might occur on a Fraser-managed yacht. Upon receipt of a captain's call, an On Call physician will be made immediately available to provide direct, medical advice for any on-board medical emergency until further assistance is available. During times of extreme medical crisis, On Call will serve as the assistance company for Fraser yachts, managing emergency evacuations and coordinating the land-based medical care of guests and crew.

Under this new agreement, On Call also will provide Fraser with a variety of medical kits geared to yacht size and cruising destinations. Further, the global assistance company will serve Fraser as a supporting operations team for all types of non-medical emergencies a captain and yacht crew might experience.

On Call International President, Michael Kelly stated, "We are proud to provide such vital services to a leading management company like Fraser Yachts, known for its high level of client service." Kelly continued, "As a provider for several maritime clients, including most of the major cruise lines, we share Fraser Yachts' standard of customer care, and look forward to applying our best practices for its discriminating clients."
